

Sunday 15 November 2015: Penrhos

Fourteen of the Lower Wye Ramblers enjoyed a 10 mile walk in blustery conditions in the beautiful countryside around White Castle. Although the weather was very windy, it was dry and surprisingly warm. We had the pleasure of scuffing through the lovely copper leaves and played pooh sticks on the bridge over the River Trothy. Our leader Sue had also baked a large cake for our coffee stop. Rambling does not get much better than this!
